

Learning for Life

It's November already! It's a busy time for all of us, but you won't want to miss the Learning for Life opportunities this month.

On Wednesday November 7th from 7:00 – 8:00 pm in the Sanctuary, Bill Schmitz will present Staying True to Your Goals and Values in the World of Sports. Bill epitomizes what it means to succeed with honesty and integrity in a profession that is constantly under the microscope. A former CSU football player, Bill has officiated since 1973, including the past 19 years with the National Football League. As an extra bonus, you might win a foot ball from the 2007 Super Bowl.

On Saturday November 10 from 9am to 5pm and Sunday November 11 from 2 to 5pm, Rev. David Dalke will lead a class entitled Leading Small Groups. If you lead small groups in any setting, this class will offer new ideas, new perspectives and new tools. Although the class is an approved lay speaking ministries advanced course, you don't need to be a lay speaker to attend -- all laity are welcome.

Rev. Schuster will repeat the Israel/Palestine Study that he led for the UMW Mission School from noon to 1pm on Wednesdays November 14 and 28 and December 5 and 12. In this class we'll learn about the history of the complex relationship between Israel and Palestine and examine its impact on current issues including racism, terrorism, and liberation. This class offers a great opportunity to deepen your understanding of the Middle East.

On Wednesday November 14 from 7:00 – 8:30pm in the Upper Room, Stan Scott will guide us in Conversational Literacy II. Building on Conversational Literacy I, we'll learn and practice skills to prevent and de-escalate conflict at home and work.
